REDEEMER

July 8, 1945 Vol. 4 No. 18

SERMONETTE

"Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth."

III John 2

Many of us during the pass weeks, and more in the weeks to come will be saying words similar to those uttered by John as we bid farewell to our friends. Our love for others increases and finds new ways to express itself as we wholeheartedly consecrate our lives to our Master, who bids us to "Love one another--". Such great love as a deep moving stream, strong and calm is relentless in its power to move others to the quality of devotion.

With such power obstacles are overcome, and the world is blessed. And even though we may lose the physical sight of our friends as we commend them to our Great Friend, The fact that we loved them blesses both them and us! And we are given new strength, power and depth of feeling to spread this spirit of love to others, whom we meet on life's pathway.

As we spread this divine force of Christian love, we help to insure peace in the years that lie ahead. So as love for our Master overflows in us so that we may love others in a deeper more constructive way, may that "peace that passeth understanding fill our minds and hearts in Jesus Christ our Lord!"

May our daily individual prayer be:

"Lord of life and love, help me to-day to practice loving my fellow men for the blessing of all everywhere. Give me joy in seeing others happy. May thy peace rest in our hearts, as we pray in our Master's name, Amen."

Miss Dorothy Black
